Unit 1
Introduction

Situation and reading
You have a new job in a social services company.

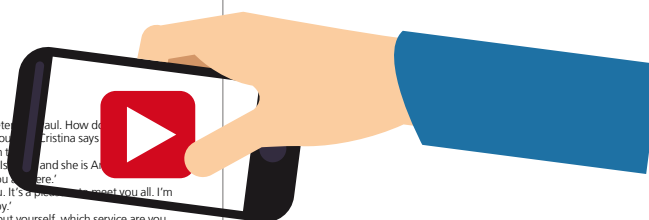

Who are you? Who are your colleagues?
Cristina meets her future colleagues.
"Hello, my name is Cristina. I'm the new carer. I recently finished my vocational training program in social and sanitary care for people with special needs, and it is my first day here. Who are you?"
"Hello Cristina, I'm Julianne. Nice to meet you!"
"Nice to meet you, too!" Cristina answers.
"I'm Jonathan, I am pleased to meet you. Sorry, I didn't catch your name. Could you spell it, please?"
"Hello Jonathan" Cristina replies. "My name is C-R-I-S-T-I-N-A. It is my pleasure to be here."

"We are Peter and Paul. How do you do?"
"How do you do?" Cristina says.
"Hello, I'm Isabella and she is Anna. We are glad you are here."
"Thank you. It's a pleasure to meet you all. I'm really happy."
"Tell us about yourself, which service are you working in?" Julianne asks.
"Well, I don't know. I think I need to do some training before I start!" Cristina answers.
"Please, feel free to ask us whatever you need to; make yourself at home" says Jonathan
"And welcome!"

Activity 1. Now, practise with your classmates and introduce yourself, say your name, your age, and what you expect from this subject.

- 1 I locate the audio icon on a picture in the book.
- 2 I activate the camera of the book that I'm using.
- 3 I focus on the area with my mobile phone or tablet.

The device automatically scans the image and starts the resource.

Enjoy the experience!

Situation and reading

Start again

This is Jason. He has lost everything through alcohol: his house, his friends, most of his family, his job, his car and all the material things he once had. Nevertheless, most of all he has lost himself. He has no confidence or self-esteem and he feels isolated with alcohol, his only friend. Jason knows that he cannot go a day without drinking alcohol. He is hooked.

—I know that I have depression and I sometimes feel I want to end everything, including myself. —Jason says— I am in a cloud of insanity and know that alcohol is the culprit.
